ON TAKING RISKS (8 minutes)

This exciting and emotional production examines the process, the preparation, and the calculations necessary to take a risk the right way. Mapes explains the difference between "risk" and "chance" and then takes a risk himself, live and on camera, complete with his personal example of turning fear into power.

This tape is designed to move you to action, whether it is the first cold call, an entrepreneurial investment, or a personal commitment. It's a perfect eight minutes to share with a sales team, a creative department, or the family at home. It breaks the ice; you'll use it as a professional tool, a call to action, or for personal inspiration again and again.
